I reach for you when all is dark
And there is nothing but a spark
I kind of wish for something more
But you keep on showing me the door

Why can't you just let go
And let your feelings show
I cry aside when
You just walk on by

Pictures of you and me
And things that will never be
Messing up my mind
Walk with me
My thoughts reminding me
I look but I never find
Why did you have to leave?

People talk and people whisper
About the things that lovers do
They buy a house and exchange rings
We just talk about casual things

Why can't you just let go
And let your feelings show
I cry aside when
You just walk on by

Pictures of you and me
And things that will never be
Messing up my mind
(Walk with me)
My thoughts reminding me
I look but I never find
Oh why did you have to leave?
