"Wait For You"

Bear me away on broken wings cause I've been here before you know I've always wanted so much more than all of this here I've laid down at your feet I've cut myself wide open just so you could see me from inside I've got nothing left hide anymore

Show me the way
I'll close my eyes and you can be my guide I'm still learning how to lose my sight I stumble and I fall my body is broken but you still pick me up can seventy times seven be enough? my hope rises from your blood you say

I wait for you and watch you slip away it's just another day for me anyway

So stand right by my side like you have so many times and show me how to shine
