He could give me diamonds, but you're the treasure that I seek
He could whisper sweet nothings, but you're the voice in my dreams
He could sing me a song, but you're the melody
He could give me a home, but you're my safety

Nothing compares to you
No one compares to you
I have found a love that's true
I belong to you

He could give me roses, but you're the earth the rain the Sun
He could kiss me softly, but you're the maker of love
He could give me his heart, but you're the beat within mine
He could lay down beside me, but you lay down your life

You are the heavens
You are eternity
Is it true that you wanna marry me?
