Why is it always so damn hard
When your walls of reason fall apart?
Don't know what's right or wrong
I've been drinkin' all night long
Guess I was doomed right from the start, yeah

Utopia is what I crave
But every day just stays the same
In this world I've walked alone
Now I'm ready to sell my soul
And sleepwalk to an early grave

Fleshengine breakdown
Fleshengine breakdown
Give me what I need

Will I see the light and spot the error of my ways?
Will I see the light and purify my poison veins?

Now that all is said and done
I'm burnin' bridges one by one
Ironically brought to an end
At the hand of my one true friend
That sorry bastard never sleeps, yeah

Fleshengine breakdown
Fleshengine breakdown
Fleshengine breakdown
Fleshengine breakdown

Will I see the light and spot the error of my ways?
Will I see the light and purify my poison veins?
Will I see the light and spot the error of my ways?
Will I see the light and do it all just one more time?

One more time
(One more time)
