Can you taste it on your lips?
The sweet mutation overflows
Ever wanting to be like them

Can you hear it in the air
The sound of progress and its whore?
Infiltrating all we know
All we know

The ants go marching one by one
To a grave as yet undug
A poison mind begets its host

As he stands unbroken
The traveler sees his fate
And still he wants to be like them
To be like them
To be like them

Waiting in line for the vaccination
Destination, annihilation
Foreclosure by the fever that brings
The truth behind the lyrics they sing, alright

You're forced to be like them
You're, you're forced to be like them
You're forced to be like them
You're forced to be like them
Forced to be

Re-encoding the DNA
A new species still unnamed
Distorted past gave birth to them

From here on out it's in our blood
And you know it won't be long
Before you hear the insect song
Before you hear the insect song

Waiting in line for the vaccination
Destination, annihilation
Foreclosure by the fever that brings

Foreclosure by the fever that brings
The truth behind the lyrics they sing
