You know your neck's exposed
Silk cannot be this way
Realize I'm sinkin' fast into your flesh where you lay

And I can feel it dribble down
Electricity on my tongue
More than a trickle of blood
And you asked if I liked the taste?
And I whisper my reply
A part of me that never dies

And when I feel you runnin' scared through my veins
And right beside you the echo is loud and strange

And I whisper my reply
A part of me that never dies
