I defy the passing time
But I'm lost without my mind
And could you please just take it all away?

All we're missing is a crime
Display this pain we feel inside
Come on man, just get it over with

Turn the lights out, broken glass
We're locked inside this place I guess
Like the plants upon the windowsill

It's a new day
and I'm in here still
The moon looms larger on the windowsill

It's a new day
and I'm in here still
The moon looms larger on the windowsill
Broken nails, blood on the wall
And I can't see my spirits fall Cause I've clawed out both my eyes today

All we're missing is a crime
Display this pain we feel inside
Come on man, just get it over with

Turn the lights out, broken glass
We're locked inside this place I guess
Like the plants upon the windowsill

It's a new day
and I'm in here still
The moon looms larger on the windowsill

It's a new day
and I'm in here still
