Hold On (To Your Love) by Danny Mana[Verse 1]
What's going on? Just look at us
We've been on the phone, arguing for hours girl
There's something wrong, you are not the same
Even your friends are telling me just how much you changed
But I don't wanna believe them
I'm trying to look for a reason
I just don't understand
I wonder if it's all a part of the plan
And it's always on my mind
I'm sick and tired of fighting all the time Baby, I don't want to be Just a part of your fantasy
I see you on that stress
I try to make you feel all right
Turn around and send a text
In the middle of the night
Like I'm some fool that doesn't seem to see That you lying through your teeth

[Chorus]
Oh baby I know sometimes it's tough to carry on But you're a diamond in the rough, for you, I sing this song
For so long, so long
I've been trying to hold on
To your love, your love
I'm trying to hold on, to your love

[Verse 2]
You on a roll, I can't explain How much you tick me off, acting like it's fun and games
I'm telling you, that I'm serious
But you just brush me off and

Why do I care? (I care, I care) Cause you done had my heart, trapped from the very start
Our love was so rare

And now it's an excuse to me, I'm missing how it used to be
We used to talk the entire night
Used to be together all the time
We used to stare in each other's eyes
And tell each other everything was fine
But you looked away
You had, nothing to say
Want you to know, and for you to see
What you doing baby

[Chorus]

Oh baby I know sometimes it's tough to carry on
But you're a diamond in the rough, for you, I sing this
song
For so long, so long
I've been trying to hold on
To your love, your love
I'm trying to hold on, to your love

[Bridge]

If you think, everything
Is gonna be all right
You better think twice
Cause you can't break me off of this love

[Chorus]

Oh baby I know sometimes it's tough to carry on
But you're a diamond in the rough, for you, I sing this
song
For so long, so long
I've been trying to hold on
To your love, your love
I'm trying to hold on, to your love
