4am and I can't sleep cause it's getting hard to dream and baby if I can't dream I don't want to sleep cause we're sinking like a stone when everyone's alone and I found me outside looking in locked out of my home high noon and I can't sleep it's so hot I can't even blink but nothing's coming easy and I don't want to miss a thing cause we're burning like a fuse and we might just make the news we'll be busting thru that silver screen looking for some truth
if it was up to you
yeah what would you do
baby would you wanna help everybody too
would you
and the sun is upside down and my head is upside down everything's so damned mixed up I just gotta make a stand I'll be rising like the wind and my heart is full of blood and the struggle that I'm living in trying to make it tuff but there's nothing on TV cause I threw it out the door and I feel like making up a future better than before

everybody blue
would you
and the moon is in the sky and it's good to be alive but I swear there must be something more

and we're burning like a fuse
and I'm rising like the wind
and there's nothing on TV
