it don't seem strange
to find yourself
out in the rain
no one cares
no one cries
even when love dies
but you know
I still feel the rain and you know I
still feel the same
cause I remember
how sweet it could be
and you still mean
everything to me
everything
out of luck
out of laughs
out of the way
and off the road map
out of time
out of wine
out of order
out of your mind
when you think there's nobody there
when you're hiding
under the stairs
when you say you'll never be free you still mean everything to me
everything
I got the love
I got the time
I got the laughs
I got the wine
cause you'll always
be a friend of mine
yeah you'll always be my friend
you hate yourself
you hate the sauce
you hate the world

you're stuck on the cross
you hate your life

you hate your dad
you need a reason
for feeling so bad
when your demons
run off with God
when you're crying
tears of blood
when you think
that no one can see
you still mean everything
well, you still mean everything to me Everything I'll hypnotize those hungry sharks I'll make love to you in the dark I know the way to heal your heart yeah I know the way
I seen you shine
you filled the room
I seen you take
a man to the moon
I seen you smile
you kissed the night
I seen you make
the dead come alive
and I remember every song and I remember
when it went wrong
and you still mean everything to me
well you still mean everything yeah you still mean
