

Danny Peck

"Thief In Love"

Visit "Thief In Love" on MotoLyrics.com

Stole your money stole your morning sun stole your makeup I stole your shinny gun stole your abstract painting stole your new TV took your big plans drove off in your SUV guess I was trying to set you free now that you have nothing I still want you you you baby I still want you

stole your hero stole his super game stole his sneakers along with their brand name stole your rock and roller stole your movie star took Â'em home and turned my room into a trendy bar lord sometimes I go to far

now that you have nothing I still want baby I still want
I still want you you you
baby I still want you

I work at night
real quiet
I slip inside
where you canÂ't hide away stole your lover the one who didn't care stole your mother seems like she was always there stole your little secrets they were in your diary stole your best friend gave her all your jewelry though some of it looked good on me

now that you have nothing
I still want baby I still want
I still want you you you
baby I still want you

I work at night
real quiet
I slip inside
where you can't hide away stole your crucifix stole your drugs stole your chocolate ice cream baby I took daddy's hugs stole the moonlight baby I stole the moon stole the flower in your hair took a sweet kiss too what else could this poor thief do

now that you have nothing
I still want I baby I still want
I still want you you you
baby I still want you

now that I have everything I still need you

Visit Danny Peck page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.