Now, what if
You could turn back the clock
And what if
You were strong enough to stop
And what if
You had any kind of love
Maybe love could live again in your stained heart

The guilt that breeds when I see you
Is eating you inside
You're sleepin' in the alley way
And workin' it at night

You're searching for your clover here
But you gotta pay the rent
You're haunted by your body
You're haunted by this scent

Lay your hands upon me
Like an angel from above
Put your arms around me,
'Cause you're fallin'

Now, what if
You could turn back the clock
And what if
You were strong enough to stop
And what if
You had any kind of love
Maybe love could live again in your stained heart

A demon's taken over you
And lives inside your veins
The boss is screamin' louder now
Screamin' 'bout the sheets you stained

You keep runnin' from your misery here
Keep runnin' towards the flame
You're wishin' there was someone else
Someone else to blame

Lay your hands upon me

Put your arms around me,
'Cause you're fallin'

Now, what if
You could turn back the clock
And what if
You were strong enough to stop
And what if
You had any kind of love
Maybe love could live again in your stained heart

Maybe love could live again in your stained heart
Maybe love could live again in your stained heart

You are strong enough to stop

Lay your hands upon me
Put your arms around me, girl
'Cause she's fallin'

Now, what if
And what if
And what if
You had any kind of love
Maybe love could live again in your stained heart

Now, what if
And what if
And what if
You had any kind of love
Maybe love could live again in your stained heart

Maybe love could live again in your stained heart
Maybe love could live again in your stained heart
Maybe love could live again in your stained heart
