Are serenades still in style?
I know deep inside you're asking why
Who is this fool singing off key?
So nervous in front of me
And is telling a story with his serenade for me
He sends you gifts like roses
And sends u letters sealed with a kiss
And all of his friends are behind him
Urging him to sing his song
By using his melody of the sweetest kinds of songs

Heaven's filled with stars tonight
And the air feels so cold
In your eyes I know it's the perfect night my love
And with this song I sing for you
I hope you love it too
Gonna sing out all I know is true
In a simple serenade just for you

Isn't it just like a movie
A story all about romance
And don't u play the lead role and I am your leading man
In a story that always ends with love that never falls

Heaven's filled with stars tonight
And the air feels so cold
In your eyes I know it's the perfect night my love
And with this song I sing for you
I hope you love it too
Gonna sing out all I know is true
In a simple serenade just for you

Isn't it just like a movie
A story all about romance
And don't u play the lead role and I am your leading
In a story that always ends with love that never falls

Heaven's filled with stars tonight
And the air feels so cold
In your eyes I know it's the perfect night my love

And with this song I sing for you
I hope you love it too
Gonna sing out all I know is true
In a simple serenade just for you
