You're in the darkness, your soul is reaching
For any promise you can hold on to
But soon you'll see just what God is teaching
The light from heaven will come breaking through

(Chorus)

For the sun is always shining
Though the clouds may hide its view
You may not see a silver lining
But any day now, somehow and somehow
The light from heaven will come breaking through

Your spirit's heavy, your heart is broken
And you've forgotten that the sky is blue
Just weep before him, the door will open
The light from heaven will come breaking through

CHORUS

The world around us is getting darker
But we know the word of God is true
Before His coming, times will be harder
But light from heaven will come breaking through

CHORUS

TAG: But any day now, somehow and somehow
The light from heaven will come breaking thru
The light from heaven will come breaking thru
