[I - Reconciliation]

Night betrayed the day I collapsed into my shell As the scars reshaped my face Mercy reared its head And forgiveness lost its charm As the cries at once fell dead

And if in the shards that surround me
One fragment of hope remains
If these paranoid wishes have come unchained
Better to wish them away
Better to save this last embrace
And give this nightmare closure

Ghosts of madness fled And the master lost his breath As the fear inside fell dead...

[II - Mother Of Agony]

Now forever laid in this pristine grave, They whisper their tirades Children of tragedy cry blasphemies, invisible and unclean.

So still in the presence of majesty
You will offer yourself to me, give in to me.
In a prison designed by me, frozen in fright at the sight of me
Now you will listen to me
Angel of the darkness created by me
Now you shall see

Better to quietly embrace the dancing fires And learn to bathe yourself in pools of my desires

Mother of agony, now atrophies Our union transcending days Naked, in a state of emergency Sweat feeding my urgency, give it to me Submit to this tragedy unholy nymph - you bleed for me Streaming like tears down your thighs Now ever so gracefully washing me clean Whisper to me

Better to readily embrace these raging fires And learn to drown yourself in seas of my desires

[III - Endless Surrender]

By the bed the stench is best
Under tattered sheets we are blessed
The decay of dignity augments your unrest
Cloaked in silence, you cling to me
Soon you come to know loyalty
Serving me eternally in our den of beauty

Ever deceived by fate, suspended behind this gate Anguish becoming me, endless surrender shapes me

[IV - Distorted Forms]

Twisted silhouettes and shadows grace the room
The sunlight has abandoned me
The hours are blurred, consciousness burns
This is my family
The lifeblood drains from me
Forging this grim reality, we fall into place,
Now we're...

Licking the skin (Aging within)
Soiling the whore (Tainting my fears)
Twisting the skin (Descent within)
Boiling the core (Tasting my tears)
Peeling the skin (Dying within)
Begging for more (Raping my soul)
Burning the skin (Decay within)
(Changing my soul)
Forever closing the door on perverse impurities
Father - Fracture - Failure

[V - Descent Within]

Pulsating thoughts impact like thunder
Mind going under
Despair rips me asunder
The ever fading voice of reason
Devoid and bleeding
Piercing numbness blinds my eyes

Our fantasies are weak and crumbling Hope stays for one thing: I know the end is coming Daughter - Damage Danger

Better to cleanse this tainted world of its disease And sacrifice sanity I have been stripped of all but nothing's stopping me Destiny's wrath ignites my soul

[VI - Ghosts Of Madness]

Night betrays the day, I am timeless (save me)
Mercy hides its face, turns away (raped me)
Ghosts of madness come, and their words (soothe me)
Master breathes his fear (fear) and the choking starts

Regret subdues my demons, purges my desires Bright flames of lust subsiding, woven curse unravels flawed designs

I can see your face turn to grey (it pains me)
I can see your fear slowly fading (it scathes me)

Undone, the monster cowers loosening its grip Overcome by searing weakness, turning to a sharp and blinding light

[VII - Children Of Failed Gods' Dismay]

Cut these chains of fractured days
Suffer the children yet he stays
I can see the ending tearing away from myself

Breaking shackles, fighting fate
Prisoners in this perfect grave
Sanctify this union, children of failed gods' dismay
Moments lapse, burning sweat fills my anguished eyes
These pains revive me
Rage inside me guides my hand so swift and unrestrained

Better to recklessly abandon final hope As the cleansing fires engulf your soul
