

Dark Tranquillity "Constant"

With each daring new concept creation and form one fragment of shelter from heaven be torn The bleeding through barriers shine of redemption
The taste of renewal let art once again be a weapon
The whim of the forger is theft from the flow the hatchet now reddened with creation's blood Constant is forever
I am the creation
so bold in design
The errors of one thousand minds bleed out through a world gone blind
This is the magic that a name would stain.
