Can't stop your thoughts now, not into sleep tonight.
Oh, she's a little crazy, can't afford to waist time.

Too many roads, no.
Not in a fright to make it.
She's got your whole heart, spinning, in circles, round and round.

Lookin' out at the world passin' me by.
And I know that it might not be right,
To have so many things in front of me,
When all I can say is one thing.

Woah, she's got you tangled, bring it back to me.
Oh, lets get the meaning, of what's been happening.

It's like waking up, and having everything.
Oh, right next to you, you've got the real thing.

Too many thoughts, no;
This part of you she's leaving.
She's got your whole heart, spinning; in circles,
drowning round.

Woah, she's got you tangled, bring it back to me.
Oh, lets get the meaning, of what's been happening.
Woah, she's got you tangled, in things that you can't see.
Oh, lets get the meaning, of what's been happening.

I've tried so hard to make up for the space of break between us,
It's tearing us apart, but you can't feel the web of lies she's weaving in.

Woah, she's got you tangled, bring it back to me.
Oh, lets get the meaning, of what's been happening.
Woah, she's got you tangled, in things that you can't
see.
Oh, lets get the meaning, of what's been happening.
