Somewhere in cyberspace The minutes turn to hours The world is in my hands Unfolding like a flower

A golden energy Was rising out of my head I she'd my evil skin And found myself again (CHORUS) I was wrong, I don't mind The impossible seems possible This time I'm an electric wire If the sun can radiate then so can I

This is a good day for A revolution of the mind Voices ride the wind And take me to the night

I crawled over broken glass To find a place in the sun Was with me all along The circle had begun (CHORUS) I was wrong, I don't mind The impossible seems possible This time I'm an electric wire If the sun can radiate then so can I

Salt and sea of I'll stay free Fire and air draw down to me Round and round the circle's bound (CHORUS) I'm an electric wire If the sun can radiate than so can I I don't mind The impossible seems possible This time I'm an electric wire If the sun can radiate then so can I Then so can I
