You make me feel so beautiful
Your moonlight lays down with my soul
Sunflowers at 2am
The soulmate I'll never see again

How did it feel to belong to me

Laying in soft lavender
We're still one love it's evident
You're running out of promises
I'm running out of innocence

We'll be together you whispered someday
What makes you think the little girl will wait

If you weren't ever coming back
Why didn't you just tell me that
Dressed in sex and stardust lies
Subconscious dreams are so unkind

Your eyes speak so silently
They tell me what you want from me
There is no more I can do
I'll always be inside of you

Icicle dreams are the memories gone by
Have you ever seen a lullaby on fire

If you weren't ever coming back
Why didn't you just tell me that
Dressed in sex and stardust lies
Subconscious dreams are so unkind

Sometimes I hear your voice
Sometimes I hear your voice
