

Darren Hanlon

"Title Fight: Heart V Mind"

Visit "Title Fight: Heart V Mind" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a good chance that before we met there were days I'd walked right past her

But now I'm seeing her tomorrow or maybe the day after

I have to tell myself to slow down, it's early days still

Anything can happen and it probably will

It's early days

My mind's just put on boxing gloves, my heart's refused to fight it

I watched the station pass me by where I should have alighted

Could this turn into something I'll be writing home about?

The inspector shakes his head and says "So you just forgot to get out?"

It's early days

She's got a face just like an angel, what does she see in me?

Why does my stomach feel like it's just eaten food that don't agree?

It's early days

It's early days

It's still early days

(You better slow down)

It's early days

Visit Darren Hanlon page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.