When you're feeling small and you can't say why
Count you're blessings now
Realise you are richer than I

Being young and bright
Still a life ahead
Take it as it comes
Between now and ever you're gone

The doctor and I will never
Think lightly about your case
We'll stand right beside you
We're close when you call

When you're feeling small and you can't say why
Count you're blessings now
You know you are richer than I

The doctor and I will never
Think lightly about your case
We'll stand right beside you
We're close when you call

The doctor and I will never
Think lightly about your case
We'll stand right beside you
We're close when you call
