All for love I guess you're right and I was just a passion Then all comes out there's no need to worry suppose You're wrong and I'm the only lover who makes you come

Close to natural greatness all for love love for us love for Whom we can trust we both agree we won't see other People I'm so sorry no one can see what we see We failed to feel the overrated feeling we thought was real

(tv learned us how to) all for love love for us love for Whom we can trust I must head on and wear these Shades for some time it's time to come close to natural Greatness all for love we're ready we should take it easy

All for love love for us love for whom we can trust
