'Ve been walking miles and thinking maybe I was wrong
Then I looked around and saw that somethin's been going on
All in all the night is young we're gonna live it up and try and get along
But today, hey, is just not my day

Is it war, or are we fighting over nothing
And could, could you be more,
Or are you too caught up in something Because I adore, everything that you were Yeah I adore, everything that you were before

I've been walking miles and thinking maybe I was wrong
Then I looked around and saw that somethin's been going on
All in all the night is young we're gonna live it up we'll try and get along
But today, is just not my day

Is it war, or are we fighting over nothing
And could, could you be more,
Or are you too caught up in something
Because I adore, everything that you were
Yeah I adore, everything that you were before

One more breath and I'll take one more step towards the door
You make me wanna leave you drive me up the wall And I'm so in to you, but I can't close the door, yeah I'm so in to you but... I can't close it... YEAH!

CHORUS

Ohhh... Fighting over nothing
And could, could you be more,

Or are you too caught up in something
Because I adore, everything that you were Yeah I adore, everything that you were before
