"Brilliant Dance"

So this is all thanks for realization that all is gone wrong and nobody cares at all(2x) so you buried all your lovers clothes and burned the letters lover wrote But it doesn't make it any better(2x) and the plaster dented from your fist, in the hall where you had your first kiss reminds you that the memories will fade.

So this is strange, besides that being has come to be A "Brilliant Dance" where nobody leads at all and the picture frames are facing down, and the ringing from this empty sound is deafening and keeping you from sleep and breathing is a foreign task and thinking is just too much to ask and your measuring your minutes by a clock that's blinking eight OH this is incredible, starving, insatiable yes this is love for the first.
OH you'd like to think you were invincible YEAH!! well weren't we all once before we felt lost for the first time
well this is the last time
