On the way home

This car hears my confessions

I think tonight I'll take the long way

And this weather

The wind outside is biting

It's left me feeling tired and exposed

Been asking me to bleed

It seems these kinds of questions

They come too easy to you now

And your lack of shame comes naturally

I should not be surprised

I should have seen it sooner

Expect me to apologize for things you've done wrong

While you're inciting others

You're owning up to nothing

And I wish that I was gone

Cuz you're not going anywhere

And this damp air

It's fighting my defroster

My sighs they ring victorious

And fog this tinted glass

And it's clouded
And so is my head
The hint of these new tears are sharp
I try to choke them back
But its useless
I'm useless agaisnt them
They're beating me with ease
On the way home
This car is my confessions
I think tonight I'll take the long way
Expect me to apologize for things you've done wrong
While you're inciting others
Your owning up to nothing
And I wish that I was gone
Cuz you're not going anywhere
On the way home
This car is my confessions
I think tonight I'll take the long way
