"Wearing Me Down"

You fight the good fight
You fight the good war
You fight to be right
You fight to a score

Why should I believe a word that you say
Is this just a game to you, I don't wanna' play

And I say
It's wearing me down, denial
It's all in my head now, now, denial
It's not what you've done
As much as what you've said

You walk a good walk
You run a good race
You talk a good talk
'Cause you try to replace

Messages of loss and all that's sacred
Tell me you should learn To love my hatred

And I say
It's wearing me down, I realize
It's all in my head now, now, and I realize
It's not what you've done
It's what you said

It's wearing me down
It's wearing me down
Wearing me down
Wearing me down
Wearing me down
Wearing me down

And I say
It's tearing me down
It's all in my head now, now
It's not what you've done
It's what you said
It's what you said

What you said
It's what you said
