Hello hello,
I'm comin' down the wire,
I know, I know
You think that I'm a liar,
But I'll be home, and soon my darlin' you'll be here with me.

I draw the blinds and make a cup of coffee,
Across the line, I know you tried to stop me
But truth be known a man will always be his own worst enemy.

Don't be so shy, I thought I made it clear,
How could you even dare to ask me why.
It's easy to try, I'm waitin' here for you,
The last thing I want to do is say goodbye.
Don't tell me hello hello when everything you say
sounds like goodbye.

I call again, it's 7 in the evening,
Say we're friends, if friends are so misleading Everything we've known might as well be thrown into the sea.

Don't be so shy, I thought I made it clear,
How could you even dare to ask me why.
It's easy to try, I'm waitin' here for you,
The last thing I want to do is say goodbye.
Don't tell me hello hello when everything you say
sounds like goodbye.

It's easy to try, I'm waitin' here for you,
The last thing I want to do is say goodbye.
Don't tell me hello hello when everything you say
sounds like goodbye.
Don't tell me hello hello when everything you say
sounds like goodbye.
