Dauntless "Shelter Equals Grave"

Visit "Shelter Equals Grave" on MotoLyrics.com

The construction of the shelter went the way it was planned Steel-reinforced concrete proved to be the choice

Half-ton armored door double-latch locks air-filtration systems not a single window

Bury yourself

Shelves groan under the weight of food supplies Ready for the terror Ready and armed

No use for a handgun against the enemy front AK-47 offers no comfort

The roof is getting closer walls begin to shake It has become reality buried in a global war

Sensors are moving lights blink like hell No transmission in the radio

Monitors go blank air pressure changes When lights turns to red shelter equals grave
