passing time with you in mind it's another quiet night I feel the ground against my back counting stars against the black thinking 'bout another day wishing I was far away wherever I dreamed I was you were there with me

sister, I hear you laugh
my heart fills full up
keep me, please
sister, when you cry
I feel your tears
running down my face
sister, sister
you keep me

I hope you always know it's true that I would never make it through you could make the sun go dark just by walking away playing like we used to play like it would never go away I feel you beating in my chest I'd be dead without

keep me, please
sister, when you cry

I would never make it through
I hope you always know it's true you could make the heavens fall just by walking away

keep me, please

keep me
