Tables turned again
And you my friend
You and I face each other Oh time and time out
I know it's sometimes hard But knowing just oh
That we will get along Til we're old and gray
And doubled up We're doubled up, we'll sit And think of times were hard And laugh of times when we thought All it would end, it was all over Then again
And know that I'm yours "less rain"
And to leave you out, I'll die Oh my friend
It will be you until the end with me Always Always...

share the time again I spend with you a friend is always good to have but a lovers kiss is better than angels raining down at me
I dream of you at times when your by my side dream you're not just like you are so troubled and doubling my pain just one more tear you shed for me I wish that I could climb inside your mind and spend some time and hug and hold you and mold you into what I'd like but no I can't do this just a kiss to spend a while by you and your familiar smile and voice I lay awake then you lean back and smiling on you

most everything you do for me, I say and the while let's make our way and feel warm in the middle of this storm with you love and (?)
angel
oh the friends they say wow she's good and wow she's
I say
when you were again
and you were my friend
before the lie
this one say yes I do and with you sometimes but while I do my best with all the rest I leave to you
and when two things become this all this trouble from a kiss from you, I'll do it and then you come up smiling and I'm thrown into I get a little storm with you, I'll do it
lover, line up and yeah the road to you is long and I've been on it for a while and a need a warm embrace

and say I want to leave you awake (wait?)
and you are
time, give it I feel tired...
