seven tumbling oceans surround the ground that I dance upon
black and white and the rainbow, five colors in my eyes

people, people
what are we doing here
oh, people
what have we done with things
people, people
what are we doing here
oh, people

when we fight over the oceans?
when we fight over the skies, and why?
when we fight over our borders?
then we, our brothers and sisters deny tell me why is it so cold in here

dance upon
when we stand in the mother's arms, no feeling of emptiness when we stand in the mother's hands, we can see that when we fight over the oceans

tell me why do we do it why do we do it? oh, . . .
