Recently I've been
All of content and dreaming I have been
'Cause I've been lately seeing
Quite a bit of this woman live on my street

People stare and we just ignore everything
People stare and we just ignore them
And they go away, go away

She comes to me
I watch her drink
I watch her comb her hair
Both say that we never before have Felt as recently

People stare and we just ignore
What's the use in hiding out
She says all the time
Let their eyes do the worrying about

She and me go to places quiet
Where we are quite alone
Kiss and we hold together
We will be until we're done

People stare and we just ignore
What's the use in hiding out
She says all the time
Let their eyes do the worrying about

Walk and talk, we both do quite well
And kissing all the time, kissing all the time
And I'm looking forward to much more

Both say that we never before
Never before have we felt so recently
People stare and we just ignore everything
People stare and we just ignore them
And they go away, go away
