This photograph
Of you and me
And these old boots
Were brand new, yeah
Look at you...
Smile, smile, smile.
Look at us, yeah you.

What has become of us?
Chasing the avalanche down
Watching the world on T.V.
There must be something better on.

Shotgun
It's for putting in your mouth, babe
In a world as upside down, as this one
Pretty patterns on the wall
You saw mother
She goes screaming down the hall-way

Talk to me, talk to me girl
All you got to do
Is say the word (save the world), baby
I wish I'd seen you when you go
No way that I can bring you back
No way that I can bring you down
I'm dreaming, dreaming your with me now

What has become of us?
Chasing the avalanche down
Watching the world on T.V.
Changes are coming now
Everything now is starting to fall
But if you just know
If you could get up, and talk to me girl
There must be something I can do
And we will try our best I swear
It gets the best of us you know
Life, something that we're just not aware

Shotgun

You know you woke me from my sleep
Something that eats me
Hidden in yourself
I can't wait inside myself, myself
I thought I could wait it out, wait it out
But nooooooooooooooooooooo
It's tricky that I can see you
It's tricky that I can see you, love
Talk to me, talk to me please
I need my girl, I need you back.

What has become of us?
Chasing the avalanche down
Watching the world on T.V.
There must be something better on.
