Your heart is a distant drum, and your dreams are killing you

Tried ever so nicely, but it came out wrong

Now what have you done, it's as bitter as it can get

Don't hold on to tightly, Number one, 'cos

You can't stop the world from talking, nothing you can do

If it goes quiet whenever you walk in, maybe what they're saying is true

You're smart, but not smart enough, can't you guess what's bugging you?

Don't take it too lightly, you're a world apart

And your heart is a distant drum, and your dreams are rolling along

You're scared and quite rightly, Number one says...

You can't stop the world from talking, nothing you can do

Maybe what they're saying is true, maybe what they're saying is true

Just maybe what they're saying is true?

You can't stop the world from talking, nothing you can do

If it goes quiet whenever you walk in, maybe what
they're saying is true

Maybe what they're saying is true

Maybe what they're saying is true

Well just maybe what they're saying is true!
