Said we would never die
but what did we know Taken away me and now how I miss you so
But no I won't never cry
'cos I promised to just get the best out of life
I'll do it for me, I'll do it for you
So when I'm sick and tired
When I'm up and wired
I know exactly what to do
I cast my gaze above
Thank God for all that love
And then thank God that I'm not you.
Said we would never die
Said we would never die
and maybe it's true
Said we would never die
I loved you to death

What would I choose to say to you with my parting breath?
Say "beauty is always sad" but that's in the past Just try to live your life like each day is your first and each day is your last.
And when you're sick of trying Just sit right down and cry
Sometimes it's all that you can do Cast your gaze above
Thank God for all that love
as I thank God that I found you
Said we would never die
Said we would never die
Now lets pray that it's true
