The maddest kind of love...is a love you know is wrong
It burns a hole right through your soul
And cuts you like a knife.
The maddest kind of love...is a love you know won't last
It fills your heart with passion
And makes you lie about your past.
You know i speak from experience
I live it each day
It's something she does
It's something she'll say
It's the maddest kind of love.
The maddest kind of love...is a love just for the thrill
It doesn't have a conscience
Only lives... for the kill
The maddest kind of love...is a love you know's a lie
It leaves you feeling empty
To weak too cold to cry.
You know i speak from experience
I live it each day
It's something she does
It's something she'll say
It's the maddest kind of love.
