

David Berkeley "Fire Sign"

Visit "Fire Sign" on MotoLyrics.com

You should have told me. Seemed like an ordinary day.
Everything seemed to be okay.
Did it hurt you? These are the scars you never show.
She is a fire sign, you know. One day you're near and then you go.

Chorus: Here is a photograph, what do you see?
There's nothing there but me.
Oh, in the aftermath, it's hard to breath and harder to believe.

They deceive you. There is a wall you have to find. The echoes in your mind.
You surrender. And these are the lessons that you learn. Nobody hears, no one's concerned. On day it's clear and then you burn.

Chorus

Even just a sound, and all your cards are down. Even just a sound.
Let me lay you down. Don't have to make a sound. I would lay you down.

It surrounds you. Sometimes it's easy to believe.
Sometimes it hurts more than it seems.
Now it's over. These are the scars you never show.
There was a warning sign, you know. One day you're near and then you go...

Visit David Berkeley page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.