There is nothing that is stronger
Than the feeling that you get
When your eyes are wide open
There is nothing like the feeling
You can never forget
When your eyes are wide open

Daytime was a feeling
But it's not over yet
Are my eyes still open?
We come a long, long distance
And we're never goin' back
Got my eyes wide open

I got both doors open
I got both doors open
I got the back door open
I got the screen door open.

In another time
In another place
There's a train running through
Right through the middle of the house

Have I been dreaming or have I been sick?
Are my eyes wide open?
Do I do it like that or do I do it like this?
Are my eyes wide open?

Wearing' out the carpet doin' tricks with her hands
She's got her eyes wide open?
And think about this, well I already have
I got my eyes wide open

I got both doors open
I got both doors open
I got the back door open
I got the screen door open

Oh, I don't understand
Oh, it's not just a sound
I got to Big Blue Plymouth

It doesn't matter at all

See the little girl with the eyes
Rolled back in her head
She got a complication
But she knows it'll work out fine

Naked as a baby
Talking 'bout the feeling she gets
In another time
In another place

I got both doors open
I got both doors open
I got the back door open
I got the screen door open

Oh, I don't understand
Oh, it's not just a sound
It doesn't matter at all
