What's going on?

I still see the frown in your face

It's so out of place

All you can remember

Is how you felt the other day

You let the small things in your way

But you know that will just keep you down

Loosen your grip, and drop it on the ground

CHORUS:

Love, love, love, love, love

It's all you need

It's everything

To keep it all together

Love, love, love, love, love

It perseveres

It always steers

To keep you in the right direction

Left here undiscovered

I want to share this gold

With people of the world

Abundantly filling

Every single heart

And here's the best part

You know that love never brings you down

Let it all out, and shout it all around that

CHORUS

Let me tell you something here today

Living life here on the rough terrain

You can lose hope, you can get lost

But you are not that far apart from
