As the sun goes down in front of me
It reminds of me of where I want to be
With you and you alone
Pulled me in like you were made for me
I'm losing faith in gravity
I just need to let you know
And I just need to let you know

I'm not going to come down
Down off of these clouds
All these heroes come and go
But you're still standing
You teach me to rise up
To open my eyes up
All these heroes come and go
But you're still standing

You're still standing

When the world's confusing
I don't care
I crawl into your atmosphere
I know you'll make it right
You're all I need to know

I'm not going to come down
Down off of these clouds
All these heroes come and go
But you're still standing
You teach me to rise up
To open my eyes up
All these heroes come and go
But you're still sanding

I believe that you can save me
And you'll never let me fall
I believe in what you've shown me
Maybe there's a hero in us all

I'm not going to come down
Down off of these clouds
All these heroes come and go

You teach me to rise up
To open my eyes up
All these heroes come and go
But you're still standing
I'm not gonna come down

Not gonna come down
But you're still standing
All these heroes come and go
But you're still standing
All these heroes come and go.....
