Here we go now
Come on

Well, I call it like I see it
And you could never be it
See, your eyes are always closed
You don't see beyond your nose

You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong

You see, now I don't want to fight Jack
But you are never right
You know you wrong
You know you wrong

Now the girl that you just met
Got you tied up like a bet
Got you coming got you going
But you never ever know

You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong

You see, now I don't want to fight Jack
But you are never right
You know you wrong
You know you wrong

But even though I know you love this song
You sit and sing it all day long
It doesn't change the simple fact
That brother you still don't know Jack

At the end of the day
I can always here you say
That everything happens
Because of your way

You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong

You see, now I don't want to fight Jack
But you are never right
You know you wrong
You know you wrong, yeah

Even though I know you love this song
You sit and sing it all day long
It doesn't change the simple fact
That brother you still don't know Jack

At the end of the day
That everything happens
Because of your way

You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong

You see, now I don't want to fight Jack
But you are never right
You know you wrong
You know you wrong

You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong

You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong
You know you wrong

You see, now I don't want to fight Jack
But you are never right
You know you wrong
You know you wrong
