You say my dreams, they make you worry
I'm wishing things that are to far for us to hope
You pull me close and whisper softly how much you love me
And I hope you right back

You say my dreams, they make you wonder
I'm wishing things not even angels could hope for
And you're afraid that I'll become a drifter
Away from whatever became of our love

But baby when I dream

I do get lost in it
I fall into the places you refuse to see
And they're beautiful and free
Oh when I dream, my heart goes on fire
And I don't wanna hide it
How could you deny it?
It's just a dream
It's just a dream
It's just a dream
It's just a dream
It's just a dream
It's just a dream

Underneath this stillness
I swim a troubled sea
