She takes her time to find it out
I'm caught in between
The morning leaves me on my own
There were things that I've never seen
Smoke another cigarette and then I say goodnight
Dream and work 'till you come again
It's always another fight
What I think is what I know
And I dream it's where I'll be
Take your time, Take your time
Gonna be alright
If you take your time
She takes her time, she cuts me down

We slip between the sheets
The TV's on but I don't care
I lose a day, I lose a week
Smoke another cigarette and then I turn out the lights
You walk away, you're back again
Starting another fight
What I think is what I know
And I dream it's where I'll be
Take your time, Take your time
Gonna be alright
If you take your time
