I may be wrong, I may be right
I may never see the light
But you can never take away my freedom

Can take everything I own
You can have and sing my song
You can never take away my freedom

I may be wrong, I may be right
I may never see the light
But you can never take away my freedom

Can take everything I own
You can have and sing my song
You can never take away my freedom

Freedom, freedom, freedom, freedom..

I may be wrong and may be right
I may never see the light
But you can never take away my freedom

Can take everything I own
You can have and sing my song
You can never take away my freedom

I may be wrong and may be right
I may never see the light
But you can never take away my freedom

Can take everything I own
You can have and sing my song
You can never take away my freedom

Freedom, freedom, freedom, freedom...

I may be wrong and may be right
I may never see the light
But you can never take away my freedom

Can take everything I own
You can have and sing my song

You can never take away my freedom

I may be wrong and may be right

I may never see the light

But you can never take away my freedom

Can take everything I own

You can have and sing my song

You can never take away my freedom

Freedom, freedom, freedom, freedom...
