Here we are alone at last
Face to face with no distractions
Reaching out each of our separate world

Everything happened so fast
What could have been a chain reaction?
Who can say where it might be tonight? Oh oh, oh

This could be our first night together
Listen to my heart and you'll know it's right
Doesn't it seem there's a spell falling over us tonight?

This could be our first night together
If we only follow our heart's desire
Waiting like a fire to ignite, could be our first night.
tonight

There's a look you've got in your eyes
All a glow and so inviting
Telling me you're watching my every move

Why should we wait for a while
When your touch is so exciting?
Full of fire burning beyond control, oh, oh, oh

This could be our first night together
Listen to my heart and you'll know it's right
Doesn't it seem there's a spell falling over us tonight

This could be our first night together
If we only follow our heart's desire
Waiting like a fire to ignite, could be our first night,
tonight

First night together
Listen to my heart and you'll know it's right
Doesn't it seem there's a spell falling over us tonight

This could be our first night together
If we only follow our heart's desire
Waiting like a fire to ignite, could be our first night,
tonight
