As we lay on a blanket,
And the stars chase the darkness
The night belongs to us
But I feel there's something different
The colors change in the distance
And with the morning sun
I wake up and you're gone

[Chorus]

Let's turn our backs on the world
Building castles made of sand
The ocean always washes it away
Was our love just a blur
Cause I'll never understand
Why a dream goes back to where it came?
Love's fading every moment I'm awake

Now every day, is a dead end
Just to show of what happened
Before the night is through
That took me back to you, yeah

[Chorus]

Let's turn our backs on the world
Building castles made of sand
The ocean always washes it away
Was our love just a blur
Cause I'll never understand
Why a dream goes back to where it came?
Love's fading every moment I'm awake

Wish I could make this night
With place we could stay for the rest of our lives
Cause I can give you all
The , that will be never be enough

[Chorus]

Let's turn our backs on the world
Building castles made of sand
The ocean always washes it away
Was our love just a blur

Cause I'll never understand
Why a dream goes back to where it came?
Love's fading every moment I'm awake.
