The Art of Dreaming

You just wave your magic wand at the world

And see what you can make it, what you can make it

Don't stand on a corner waiting for the stop sign to change

All the sunshine to rain

Somedays we'll cry, somedays we'll cry

Somedays we'll cry and we don't know why

One day we'll die, one day we'll die

One day we'll die and we don't know why

But it's such a pretty, pretty, pretty, pretty little world

Such a pretty, pretty, pretty, pretty little world

Such a pretty, pretty, pretty, pretty little world

I dream about you, dream about you

So close your eyes and sleep tonight

I'll be rolling you over and over in my mind

Don't be shy and start believing

It's all in the art of dreaming

Someday we'll cry, somedays we'll cry

Somedays we'll cry and we don't know why

Someday we'll die, someday we'll die

Someday we'll die and we don't know why
But it's such a pretty, pretty, pretty, pretty little world
Such a pretty, pretty, pretty, pretty little world
Such a pretty, pretty, pretty, pretty little world
I dream about you, dream about you
So close your eyes and sleep tonight
I'll be rolling you over and over in my mind
Don't be shy and start believing
It's all in the art of, all in the art of Dreaming
