It brings a cold shiver inside
Each time I see you looking over your shoulder
At passing shadows of your days with him
(I've tried as much as any man can)
With all that it takes
(And though I know you try to hide it)
For both of our sakes
All the same, every time you hear his name

It sure brings out the love in your eyes
It sure brings out that misty-eyed look about you
I don't know what his memory's got
But it sure brings out the love in your eyes
It sure brings on the feeling there's still some place
You'd much sooner be
And that brings out a sadness in me

It's like I'm left out in the rain
You ought to put yourself in my shoes a moment
That half of you that's with me has to see
(I've got to stop to get the feeling)
You're warming to me
(I've almost got myself believing)
That you 're shaken free
And as I do, his name comes up out of the blue

And it sure brings out the love in your eyes
It sure brings out that misty-eyed look about you
I don't know what his memory's got
But it sure brings out the love in your eyes
It sure brings on the feeling there's still some place
You'd much sooner be
And that brings out a sadness in me

I've tried as much as any man can (Do-do do-do do-do do-do)

It sure brings out the love in your eyes
It sure brings out that misty-eyed look about you
I don't know what his memory's got
But it sure brings out the love in your eyes

It sure brings on the feeling there's still some place
You'd much sooner be
And that brings out a sadness in me
