My dreams are like a swirl, mixing real and fancies.
They turn, they turn around the world, my hope is to find the keys.

I'm setting off in search of true moments at first.
I'm taking off but I risk of expecting the worst.

I play a game everyday, I pray, defy to do the test.
I stay the same all the day, I cry, I try to be the best.

If I understand, drawing me to you again
Just as you pushed me away, can't you feel my pain ?
If I never come back, if I control the end
And without looking back, can't you feel my pain ?

Oh, let me go free, hoping for better days.
Don't worry about me, it's not too much for me.
Now I land quietly, I get off this spaceship.
The shivers inside me, I'm sinking too deep.

I open my eyes and I see dreams so unfriendly.
Not slowly, not serenely, firmly throw away the key.
I'm falling ill but I still keep burning the secret.
It's killing me, making a deal with you in respect.

I play a game everyday, I pray, defy to do the test.
I stay the same all the day, I cry, I try to be the best.

Ah ah ah, be the best, ah ah ah, do the test.
Ah ah ah, be the best, ah ah ah, it's my request.
