You're leaving me
That's alright
People gotta go new places
And on your journey
You will see
New friends and new faces
But if you think
I will forget
The good times we've had together
You don't know this friend too well
Here's something for you to consider

I will miss you
When you go
I will miss you
When you go

You may be coming back
We don't know when
I can't see the future
But if my bones can tell
What's gonna be
We'll drink a little wine together
And if you think I will regret
Two birds of a feather
Take a listen to this song my friend
Here's something for you to remember
I will miss you
When you go
I will miss you
When you go

I will miss you when you go
